WHOLESALESAERS OF TORONTO WITNESS BOX

Afternoon Session of Board of Commerce was Rather Quiet.

YORK TRADING CO.

Robert Downon on How Its Affairs are Carried On.

Four witnesses were called at yesterday afternoon's session of the Board of Commerce, all four being men in business in Toronto. Two of the witnesses directly that manufacturing firms had refused to sell to them, as they were not members of the Retail Grocers' Association, and were, on this account, unable to purchase certain lines of goods. The evidence of Mr. Robert Downon, president of the York Trading Company, was marked by severe questioning by Mr. McKay, counsel for the Wholesale Grocers' Association. Mr. Downon's replies were guarded, and even the role of the commissionaire was raised at times.

James Bonnellville, who has been in the employ of the Kellogg Company for the past fifteen years, gave evidence that offers received from the local wholesalers who were not members of the association were not accepted by the company, until after the first of January of this year. When one of the firms was asked to membership in the association. After this, the orders were accepted and filled, but orders solicited from the non-members were refused by the company. W. E. Sutton was the first witness to be called. He is a wholesaler from Toronto. He was merely asked to produce a list of the goods he had purchased. After the list was produced he was questioned by Robert McKay, K. C. solicitor for the association. "It is a fact there has been a great shortage of certain lines," questioned Mr. McKay. The reply was in the affirmative. Mr. Sutton stated that this applied to sugar, starch and many other lines.

J. J. Menzies then took the oath, he being from Toronto. He was asked to produce three prominent English manufacturers. "Where you have arrangements of sale with any one?" he was asked. "No." "Do you set the re-sale price?" "No." "Does this interfere with your business?"

Mr. Menzies stated that he had been connected with this business, and the evidence was always given in the manner of the London price. "Do you think the set price is an advantage to the larger?" "No." "I think the housewife has a comparative ability." "Did this policy ever interfere with your business?"

"Only in Hamilton. Then when we sold to one firm, orders from other were cancelled. Have correspondence with the Ottawa Commissionaire regarding this." "Did you ever sell any consignment to Peabody?"

"We have sent consignments to Peabody." At this point Mr. McKay then took up the questioning, on behalf of the association.

"Did you confine your sales to the wholesale trade?" "No." "Did you not supply to some on the retail account other than the wholesale?"

"Yes." "Is this letter is not true?" "It is. We sold only to wholesalers." "What of the list accounts?"

Mr. Menzies explained that he was in the letter, they were attempting to rectify the list accounts, which were of long standing. He was then asked to produce a list of the goods he had purchased.

"Then this rectification was to get rid of the retailers?" "Yes." "Did you attempt to solicit no new accounts?"

"You undertook to deal only with the wholesale trade, and solicit no more list accounts?" "Were you surprised when Gillard refused to deal with you, when they learned you sold to Carrolle?"

Mr. McKay replied the witness. "You think price-cutting would ultimately lead to difficulties?" "Yes. But we do not deal in price-cutting."

"Well, if you distributed only through wholesale, you would distribute only through wholesale." "I would expect trouble."

Mr. McKay asked: "Would you sell to any wholesaler who was not recognized by others or not?" "Yes. It matters not to us if he is not an association."

"And if he did not belong, would you cause trouble?" "Most assuredly not."

"If you were to sell to the retailers in this city," asked Mr. O'Connor, "and sell to the wholesalers whose business is in this city, would you be in the position of the wholesalers would be?"

Mr. Menzies admitted in most cases he would change to the wholesaler, making a greater profit. Mr. James Bonnellville stated, when called, that he had been connected with Kellogg's Company for about fifteen years. "Do you know Frank Peabody?" asked Mr. Rodbeck. "Yes, but they were not filled."

"When asked why, Mr. Bonnellville said he did not know. "What happened after January 1st?" he was asked. "I was asked to sell to the wholesalers, and I got instructions that they could buy."

"That about Mr. Harris?" "I know him, but never solicited any order from him. But I question if any orders from him have been filled."

During this witness, Robert Downon, president of the York Trading Company, took the stand. This limited company is a wholesaler of shareholders, about 75 of these being retailers. Stock valued at $100,000 was stored in the warehouses. The turnover for the past month was slightly under $100,000. The staff consisted of one travelling, was kept, all business being done in the city of Toronto.

The majority of the witnesses were shareholders in the company, and sales were made only to retailers. The only interest shareholders could have in the company, would be in dividends. The capital stock, and the interest could pay at the same price as merchandise, plus only the charge for delivery.

"I believe other companies have refused to accept shareholders," said Mr. Downon. "Have you had any trouble purchasing from the staff?"

"We applied to be put on the list," said Mr. Downon. "We were told that they were full of orders, and would not sell until able to make a fuller distribution."

Mr. Downon stated that the Corn and Flour Commissionaire, the Kellogg Company and the Horden Condensed Milk Company all refused him. He was told to join the list of the Kellogg Company, and the Horden Condensed Milk Company.

Niagara Growers Says Winter Has Been An Ideal One

CO-OPERATION

In Marketing, Discussed By the Association.

Grimsby, March 10.—A big attendance marked the annual convention of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, which opened here this morning. Brought by prominent growers of the district who were in attendance at the convention indicated great satisfaction with the present winter season as regards its influence on the fruit trees, their reason for this optimistic feeling being that notwithstanding the winter had been a severe one, with the tree roots well protected by the snow during the greater part of the season, but the trees went into the winter in ideal condition.

The feature that appealed most strongly to the growers was the "Address delivered by Mr. R. W. White, director of the Bureau of Co-operative Association, Albany, N. Y., who stated that the Bureau was doing a great deal of work in the line of marketing."

Mr. White told of the experience of the fruit growers in the United States and Canada, and the importance of the grower has to contend with in the matter of labor. This was due largely to the enormous price of labor for non-essentials, while the consumer is demanding a lower cost of living.

The wisdom of water transportation was discussed by Mr. White, who said that the grower has to contend with in the matter of labor. This was due largely to the enormous price of labor for non-essentials, while the consumer is demanding a lower cost of living.

Mr. H. K. Clemens, secretary of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, read an interesting paper on the subject of the fruit growers in the United States and Canada, and the importance of the grower has to contend with in the matter of labor.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Speeches For and Against Introduction of Such a Time Limit.

Ottawa, March 10.—After the long and somewhat strenuous session of Tuesday, Parliament took things easy today. It was private members' day, and a number of questions which had been placed on the order paper were asked.

There followed a Government statement on the subject of the fuel situation. The speaker, Mr. Burnham, stated that the Government was not in a position to make any statement on the subject of the fuel situation.

Mr. Burnham, however, did not take favorably to the suggestion of withdrawing it, fearing that such a course might discount the importance of the matter in the eyes of the country.

POTATOES ARE VERY SCARCE

Slight Increase in the Price To-day.

Butter and Eggs Were a Little Cheaper.

Thursday, March 11.—There was a very small market again to-day, a few farmers were in with loads of apples, onions, lettuce, carrots, etc., also a limited number of chickens. A little meat of every sort was brought in, and had a very good sale. Potatoes were very scarce, and sold at 14 to 16.50 per bag. Butter and eggs, too, were in, but poor supply. The former sold at 8 to 10 cents, and eggs at 17 to 18 cents, many of them being sold at the lower price. The flower stalls had a very good array of many kinds of flowering plants of early spring.

CASH SALES IMPOSSIBLE

Flour For Export Must Be On Credit.

(Supplied by Tomkinson, Fordwood & Co., Merchants Bank Bldg.)

Chicago, March 11.—Corn traders who have been bullish are looking for cash prices to work nearer the future. They have dropped four to eight cents the last few days, and No. 3 yellow, which was 10 to 11 cents over May, was down to six cents over, and was only two cents over March at the close yesterday. It is deliverable at two cents discount. Leading factors that are to make the price of corn from now on are the corn supply, the movement and the attitude of farmers, shippers and industries. Shipping houses were buyers of March corn yesterday against cancellations east. Bulls in corn and oats remain firm in the belief that all the bulls should be taken advantage of to buy. Bears are constantly looking for factors to make a good running decline. The grain corporation has 5,000,000 bushels of flour on hand, which it proposes to sell abroad on credit, as cash sales are impossible. The statement was made by Julius H. Barnes.

SUMMARY.

1. Shipping shows profit of $166,400 to Jan. 30th last, according to Chairman Payne.

2. Railroad's legislative meeting to-day. There can then be used as money to special hearing before Commerce Commission March 22nd, on question of good road groupings and valuation.

3. Bank of England rate 6 per cent. Secretary Houston states. An export of gold from France and England will reach United States in short time.

4. Steel traded report orders from railroads from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 equipment.

Cleaning by Paraffin Bag.

Damp two or more cloths with paraffin. Roll up tightly and leave 24 hours. These can then be used as follows:

1. Doors, casings, china, furniture, bedsteads, etc.
2. Linoleums, painted floors, stain and blemishes.
3. Cleaning windows instead of with water (especially a boon in winter).
4. Greases and gum stains. An excellent remover of grease, and it used regularly keeps polish will not often grate bright for months without polishing by these means.

With everything else going up it seems strange people should find it so difficult to keep up appearances.

Cherish! All the poetry in the world isn't in the waste-basket.

STOCK TREND STILL UPWARD

Industrials Are No Longer Ruling Feature.

(Supplied by J.G. Beatty & Co., 17 Main Street, Members New York Stock Exchange.)

New York, March 11.—We believe the trend is still upward. Sentiment is greatly improved, and professional selling has been absorbed without making any definite impression on prices. As a general rule we would not take profits except on the bulges and then only with the idea of replacing stocks on the dip.

It is no longer an industrial market. Interest attached to indications that leading banks have changed their position and are now in favor of permitting more banking accommodations for Wall Street purposes.

Banking interest generally seems to put most confidence in the outlook for the future. There are very active and strong in the opening of today's session. The further advance coinciding with the report of yesterday's foreign quotation, which was the first advance in the market since the first half-hour.
